

MEMO TO STATE PUBLICATION PROGRAM LIBRARIES

August 12, 2005

After 5+ years of service to the New Mexico State Library and the State Depository Program, Leslie Monsalve-Jones has resigned her position effective August 12th. She has taken a position with the State Records and Archives beginning August 15th. We shall miss her and wish her the very best. Until Leslie's position is filled, please contact Marci, Monica or Tim with any questions regarding the State Depository Program.

Memo from Marci:

In this shipment find:

New Mexico Water Resource Atlas- This Atlas from the State Engineer's Office serves as a visual record to understand one of the State's most valuable resources- water. Underground water basins, lake surface evaporation, well permit locations, hydrologic features and meteorological data are all incorporated into the various color coded maps covering of all parts of New Mexico in this publication. Online at <http://www.ose.state.nm.us/water-info/NMWaterPlanning/nmwateratlas.pdf>

NM Senate and House District maps and accompanying data from the Legislative Council Service. - The NM Legislature redistricted the State House and Senate districts in 2002. Here are the current district maps accompanied covering political party, ethnicity and population information by data for those districts. Online at <http://legis.state.nm.us/lcs/districts.asp>

2005 Laws of New Mexico- Use the 2005 Laws of New Mexico as your tool for finding laws added or changed during the last legislative session. The "Laws" have subject and bill indexes in the back that work to identify new legislation. Until we receive this year's supplements, your NMSA (in those orange binders) is NOT UP-TO-DATE with current New Mexico Law. Neither is the online database available through the Supreme Court Library's web page. Supplements to the NMSA and updates to the online database of the NM Statutes will come about the second week of September of this year, according to the Compilation Commission... Online at <http://www.sos.state.nm.us/Election/05ChapteredBills.htm>

Motor Vehicle Laws- This Traffic Safety Bureau publications a handy reference to Motor Vehicle Laws in New Mexico. We keep a copy in Ready Reference at the State Library for DWI, Drivers' license and driving citation questions. Online at <http://ipl.unm.edu/traf/pubs/NMMVLaws8x11.pdf>
